

Home > Student Mappers - Participate in the Best Student Geologic Map Competition!

Student Mappers - Participate in the Best Student Geologic Map Competition!

Association of American State Geologists

Geological Society of America

Fieldwork is an integral part of a field geoscientist's training and to recognize its value in the community, the USGS is running the 4th Best Student Geologic Map Competition. The competition is open to all students, at any level of their academic career (B.S., M.S., or Ph.D.), who have created a geologic map through their recent and substantial field work. We strongly recommend cross checking your map against the judging criteria (which can be downloaded from this post). The competition itself is an opportunity to network with professional mappers, and familiarize yourself with different mapping programs around the country, and world. We look forward to seeing you in Denver!

Tags:

- geotimes, mapping, usgs, field camp

08JUL2016_MapCompetitionRules.pdf

08JUL2016_MapCompetitionFlyer.png