

GSA-USGS Congressional Science Fellow Shares Her Experiences

Geological Society of America

Karen Paczkowski, the 2015-2016 GSA-USGS Congressional Science Fellow, shared her experiences in the July 2016 Issue of GSA Today. From participating in Congressional Visits Days, her orientation with the other AAAS Science and Technology Policy Fellows, to working in Senator Edward J. Markey's office her experiences are so valuable because they engage scientists in the policy making process. There is wealth of opportunity for geoscientists in non-traditional career paths, as well as in research.

Tags:

- geotimes, member society, policy, congressional geoscience fellow