SME: Why Should the Government Care about Reinvestment in Mining and Engineering Schools

Society for Mining, Metallurgy & Exploration

The Society for Mining and Metallurgy Exploration, Inc. (SME) has posted a new Technical Briefing Paper on the website regarding Federal Support for U.S. Mining Schools. In it they provide background on the issue, outline reasons investment in these programs is valuable to the American public and provide options for action. Recently SME provided leadership in encouraging revisions to SEC rulemaking.
