

DCO: Open Call for Synthesis Proposals

The Deep Carbon Observatory (DCO) is hosting an open call for synthesis proposals that runs through October 25th, 2016. DCO will consider a variety of synthesis and integration activities, but they must combine data and knowledge from within communities or across different disciplines to advance understanding of deep carbon in Earth. Proposals can request up to $50,000 for projects beginning March 1, 2017.
