#AMS17 to showcase inclusive programs in Seattle

On Martin Luther King Jr. Day, the American Meteorological Society (AMS) shared a blog post titled "The Network of Mutuality at the AMS Annual Meeting." The upcoming atmospheric science conference, which will take place January 22-26 in Seattle, Wash., will feature a number of programs and presentations that highlight diversity and inclusiveness, both in meteorology and the geosciences at large. Read about some of these offerings on the AMS blog, The Front Page.
