

Published on American Geosciences Institute (https://www.americangeosciences.org) Home > Call for Sessions: Resourcing Future Generations 2018 Meeting

Call for Sessions: Resourcing Future Generations 2018 Meeting

The team at Resourcing Future Generations is calling for sessions for their 2018 Vancouver, Canada meeting. The sessions will focus around four themes: Energy, Minerals, Water and Earth Systems. By looking at different issues from a geoscientific perspective, the conference will serve as a forum for industry stakeholders to discuss their research initiatives and activities, and key issues and trends shaping the future of energy, minerals and water resources including the science of the earth that underpins their sustainable discovery and extraction. Resourcing Future Generations (RFG) is an International Union of Geological Sciences (IUGS) initiative aimed at meeting the multigenerational needs for raw materials, energy and water while ensuring social equity.

Tags:

· geotimes, natural resources