

Explore Boston from the Geographer's Perspective with an #AAG2017 Field Trip

American Association of Geographers

Of the many field trips being offered at the upcoming American Association of Geographer's Annual Meeting. Of interest to geoscientists would be a walking tour tracing the landmaking that created what is now Boston's Central Waterfront, the Geography of Beer: Boston Beer Making, an overview of the historic map collection at the Leventhal Library, and a Boston Gas Leaks Safari, among many others.
