IAH Announces New Executive Manager #water #groundwater

International Association of Hydrogeologists/U.S. National Chapter

The International Association of Hydrogeologists (IAH) announced that Ian Davey joined IAH Executive Manager on April 1, 2017 following John Chilton's retirement in December 2016. Davey is a hydrogeologist with over 30 years' experience, much of it working for the Environment Agency in England. In recent years, this has included project management and advisory work outside of UK, including Poland, Bulgaria and Turkey.
