

Published on American Geosciences Institute (<https://www.americangeosciences.org>)

Home > CMS Executive Committee Changes Ahead of Schedule

CMS Executive Committee Changes Ahead of Schedule

Clay Minerals Society

Due to unforeseen circumstances the Clay Minerals Society (CMS) welcomed new faces into their executive committee ahead of schedule at their Annual Meeting earlier this month. Chevron scientist Douglas McCarty became Vice-President, and Lydia Williams became Vice President-Elect, and the Council Nomination Committee approved Andrei Kalinichev to step into Williams' recently vacant role. Read more about in Elements Magazine's Society News. The listing for the CMS Executive Committee can be found here.

Tags:

- geotimes, member society
-