

National Awards

The American Geosciences Institute directly, or in cooperation with its Member Societies, makes a number of awards each year to recognize particular excellence in the geosciences. In addition, AGI works with its Member Societies to foster nominations of deserving geoscientists for consideration in a number of National Science Awards. Please select an award below for information about the award, past awardees of AGI awards, and links to the application or nomination forms.

Call for Nominations!

AGI Awards

- AGI Medal in Memory of Ian Campbell for Superlative Service to the Geosciences
- AGI Award for Outstanding Contribution to Public Understanding of the Geosciences
- The William B. Heroy Jr. Award for Distinguished Service to AGI
- Marcus Milling Legendary Geoscientist Award
- Edward C. Roy Jr. Award for Excellence in K-8 Earth Science Teaching
- Harriet Evelyn Wallace Scholarship for Women Geoscientists
- AGI Scholarship for Advancing Diversity in the Geoscience Profession
- William L. Fisher Congressional Geoscience Fellowship

National Science Awards

- William T. Pecora Award
 - National Medal of Science
 - Vannevar Bush Award
 - Alan T. Waterman Award
-