

Geoscience Policy Monthly Review: June 2018

The Monthly Review is part of a continuing effort to improve communications about the role of geoscience in policy. Current and archived monthly reviews are available online.

Subscribe to receive the Monthly Review directly to your email.

June 2018

budget

- House and Senate pass appropriations legislation funding FY 2019 Energy and Water Development
- House and Senate committees approve FY 2019 Interior-Environment appropriations bills
- Senate Appropriations Committee approves NSF, NOAA, NASA, NIST, and OSTP funding
- Lawmakers discuss the future of the International Space Station

education

- White House Office of Science and Technology Policy hosts a State-Federal STEM Education Summit

energy

- FERC commissioners recommend against subsidizing coal and nuclear power plants in oversight hearing
- House and Senate pass appropriations legislation funding FY 2019 Energy and Water Development

federal agencies & administration

- White House releases plan to reform and reorganize executive branch agencies

natural resources

- House subcommittee discusses federal land protections and designations in Montana and Utah space

- Lawmakers discuss the future of the International Space Station

water

- Senate Oceans Subcommittee reviews the first decade of the NOAA Digital Coast Program
- President Trump signs executive order implementing a new national ocean policy
- House and Senate pass appropriations legislation funding FY 2019 Energy and Water Development

federal register

- Federal Register Summary: June 2018