

Published on American Geosciences Institute (<https://www.americangeosciences.org>)

Home > anticyclone

anticyclone

anticyclone (an-ti-cy'-clone). An atmospheric high-pressure system with closed isobars, the pressure gradient being directed away from the center so that the near surface wind spirals outward in a clockwise direction in the Northern Hemisphere, counterclockwise in the Southern. It was named by Francis Galton in 1861. See also: cyclone.

Tags:

- geotimes

Website:

GeoWord of the Day
