

Regional Associate Societies

AGI Member Society status requires the society to have a national scope. For the many societies and organizations that are focused on serving their local and regional communities, AGI established the Regional Associate category. Regional Associates gain access to AGI products and services, but are non-voting members of the AGI Member Society Council.

Regional Associates

Geological Society of Connecticut

Geological Society of Washington

Western Water Assessment
