Register to Attend the 2019 Earth Educators' Rendezvous in Nashville!

We look forward to your participation in the 2019 Earth Educators' Rendezvous in Nashville, TN July 15-19!

The EER brings together researchers and practitioners working in all aspects of undergraduate Earth education, including a mix of college faculty, graduate students, and K-12 teachers from all disciplines who are interested in improving their teaching about Earth. View the program here: https://serc.carleton.edu/earth_rendezvous/2019/program/index.html

The Contributed Program is currently open. Abstract submissions are due March 3rd. Check it out, and consider sharing your research, teaching ideas, and expertise!

Early Bird Registration deadline is May 1. Fees are reduced for all NAGT Members.

There are multiple opportunities for travel support for EER, including participating in the activity review camp ($500 stipend), NGSS tagging camp ($500 stipend), Marine Geology Using GEODE workshop ($1,000 travel award) and general travel stipends ($500).

Summer is always a busy time for travel. Be sure to book your EER housing soon. Check out the housing options on the Travel and Accommodations page.

See You This Summer in Nashville!
