

Published on American Geosciences Institute (<https://www.americangeosciences.org>)

Home > character [seis]

character [seis]

character [seis] . A recognizable aspect of a sequence of seismic events (or waveforms) that distinguishes it from others. It is usually a frequency or phasing effect, and is often not defined precisely and hence is dependent on subjective judgment.

Tags:

- geotimes

Website:

GeoWord of the Day
