

Published on American Geosciences Institute (<https://www.americangeosciences.org>)

Home > M 7.1 SoCal earthquake triggers aftershocks up to 100 mi away: What's next?

M 7.1 SoCal earthquake triggers aftershocks up to 100 mi away: What's next?

Temblor

The 50-km-long rupture has triggered widely dispersed aftershocks. However, almost none of these struck on the faults that the M 7.1 brought closer to failure: The major Garlock Fault; or the Blackwater, Panamint Valley, or Sierra Nevada Faults.
