

wave-built terrace

wave-built terrace . A gently sloping coastal feature at the seaward or lakeward edge of a wave-cut platform, constructed by sediment brought by rivers or drifted along the shore or across the platform and deposited in the deeper water beyond. Cf: marine terrace; beach plain. Syn: wave-built platform.

Tags:

- geotimes

Website:

GeoWord of the Day
