

Published on American Geosciences Institute (<https://www.americangeosciences.org>)

Home > fission tracks

fission tracks

fission tracks . The paths of radiation damage made by nuclear particles in a mineral or glass by the spontaneous fission of uranium-238. They are similar in occurrence and formation to alpha-particle recoil tracks but are larger and less numerous. Fission-track density is established by etching and subsequent microscopic examination and counting.

Tags:

- geotimes

Website:

GeoWord of the Day
