AGI's New Geoscience Job Center Boosts Opportunities

ALEXANDRIA, Va. — Connecting geoscience employers with those seeking opportunities, the American Geosciences Institute (AGI) is pleased to announce its new Geoscience Job Center.

The Geoscience Job Center, updated daily, lists a wide variety of employment opportunities currently available across the geoscientific disciplines and sectors, including positions in academia, research, government, nonprofits, and the private sector.

As an introductory offer to employers through June 30, 2021, all academic ads are only $100 each for 31 days. Just email your ad to jr@americangeosciences.org and, in most cases, the ad will be posted within one business day, and there is an easy way to pay online.

Visit AGI's Geoscience Job Center at <https://www.americangeosciences.org/jobs> today.
