

Published on American Geosciences Institute (<https://www.americangeosciences.org>)

Home > The Value of Geoscience Communication discussed in GSA's Blog #SciComm

The Value of Geoscience Communication discussed in GSA's Blog #SciComm

Geological Society of America

 not found or type unknown

One of EARTH Magazine's Correspondents, among many other publications, Terri Cook discusses the value of Geoscience Communication, especially where journalists and scientists can help each other out, in the Geological Society of America's (GSA) "Speaking of Geoscience" blog. Read to find out what science organizations, like the GSA, have done to support science writers, and to look at the scientific environments that lead to the best articles.

Tags:

- geotimes, member society
-