GeoRef News

The GeoRef Preview Database is updated weekly!

123,171 references to recent publications were loaded in our most recent update.

GeoRef now contains more than 4 million references to the world's geoscience literature. On July 11, 2018 GeoRef staff passed the 4 million reference mark. Since its development in the late 1960's, the database has grown steadily – reaching its first million record in 1982. With the acceleration of scientific publishing, the last million records were added over a span of only 9 years. Day passes now available for AusGeoRef, CanGeoRef and the Groundwater and Soil Contamination database. A pass that allows unlimited searching of each database is now available for the low cost of $12.00. Click here to sign up.

We are happy to announce the relaunch of our complimentary online database Geologic Guidebooks of North America Database. It has a new search interface and addition of a geographic map-based search option. For further information visit Geologic Guidebooks of North America Database.

CanGeoRef launched September 15, 2011! It is another subset of the well-known database, GeoRef. CanGeoRef covers the geosciences literature of Canada and includes references to reports, books, maps, theses, conference proceedings and journal articles. Additional references to Provincial and Territorial Geological Surveys are being provided through collaboration between Canadian Federation of Earth Sciences \(CFES\) and American Geosciences Institute \(AGI\).

GSW: Visit the new, fully integrated website of GeoScienceWorld (GSW). It is the single source for access to journals, eBooks, and GeoRef. The new platform was launched in April 2016 and will continue to add enhancements.

Engineering Village: The GeoRef and GeoRef In Process databases have been reloaded on the Engineering Village platform in January 2015. The databases now provide the most recent records available. They have also enhanced the records with citation counts, citation details and author profiles from Scopus. For further information visit Engineering Village at
