

1998-1999 AGI Fellow David Wunsch

David Wunsch spent his year on Capitol Hill working for the House Resources Committee's Subcommittee on Energy and Mineral Resources, chaired by Rep. Barbara Cubin (R-WY). During the fellowship, Wunsch worked on a range of issues including abandoned mine lands reclamation. Wunsch came to the fellowship from the Kentucky Geological Survey, where he was a senior hydrologist and served as an adjunct professor of geology at the University of Kentucky. He holds a Ph.D. from the University of Kentucky. Wunsch became the New Hampshire State Geologist in 2000 and transitioned to the Director of Science and Technology at the National Ground Water Association in 2010. In November 2011, Wunsch became the Director and State Geologist of the Delaware Geological Survey.

Dr. David Wunsch wrote the following columns in Geotimes:

- A Fellow on the Hill (1/99)
 - Does SPR Spell Relief for the Domestic Oil Industry? (6/99)
 - Geoscientists in a Changing World: Where Do We Stand? (11/99)
 - policy
 - congressional geoscience fellow
 - 1998
-