

USGS EDMAP Program Announcement released - Call for Proposals

The EDMAP Program Announcement - Call for Proposals - is now live on Grants.gov for the 2018 fiscal year, closing on November 8, 2017 at 3:00PM ET.

The US Geological Survey's EDMAP Program is the educational component of the National Cooperative Geologic Mapping Program. We encourage Earth science professors conducting research or teaching that focuses on geologic mapping to propose 1-year projects that request funding to support upper-level undergraduate and graduate students at their colleges or universities. The emphasis of the EDMAP program is to educate students in the skills of geologic mapping in the field. EDMAP is a matching-funds cooperative agreement program. To apply please download the Program Announcement, number G18AS00005, on Grants.gov.
